

The Compass Rose Society

Since 1995 the Compass Rose Society has raised over $6.6 million for Anglican Communion ministries

• The Anglican Consultative Council – Over $5 million

The Council's communication initiatives which share the work of the Communion around the world and raise awareness of causes needing support; St. Andrew's House in London, which houses the Anglican Communion offices; the Anglican Observer at the UN, Anglican provinces experiencing strife including Darfur; the Anglican Family Network; theological textbooks.

• The Diocese of Jerusalem – Over $1 million

Assistance to hospitals in Gaza and Nabulus, emergency food and medical supplies, operating costs, scholarships, the Spafford Children's Center and the Bishop Riah Educational Campus in Ramallah.

• The Diocese of the Highveld, South Africa – Over $150 thousand

HIV/AIDS assistance, theological textbooks and the Micro Bank

• The Diocese of Kaduna, Nigeria – Over $85 thousand

Construction and operating funds for a bush health clinic in the bush near Kateri

• Diocese of Mpwapwa, Tanzania – Over $65 thousand

Famine relief, education programs, Micro Bank

• And over $250 thousand

The dioceses of Southern Malawi, Mexico, Spain, Cuba, Cyprus and the Gulf, Hong Kong, Northern Zambia and Malita, Melanesia as well as the Anglican Church in Uganda, Nanjing Seminary; the Anglican Centre in Rome; NIFCON (the Network for Interfaith Concerns), the Irish School of Ecumenics; the Theological Education Exchange; the International Anglican Women's Network.

In 2010 over $180 thousand

- Anglican Consultative Council – $160K
- International Anglican Women's Network – $3,000
- The Diocese of Kaduna, Nigeria – $7,000
- NIFCON – $5,000
- Diocese of Spain – $2,000
- Diocese of Jerusalem – $1,000
- Diocese of Haiti – $1,500

"Compass Rose contributes so much financial support, prayerful support and above all else pastoral support to those who must practice reconciliation...without the Compass Rose a great deal we have managed to achieve would have been impossible."

~ The Most Rev'd Robin H.A. Eames, former Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland

"The Compass Rose Society's ability to bring people with differing views "to the table" of dialogue, discussion, fellowship and worship is a true gift."

~ The Rev'd Canon Kenneth Kearon, Secretary General of the Anglican Communion

The Compass Rose Society

Since 1995 the Compass Rose Society has raised over $6.6 million for Anglican Communion ministries

• The Anglican Consultative Council – Over $5 million

The Council's communication initiatives which share the work of the Communion around the world and raise awareness of causes needing support; St. Andrew's House in London, which houses the Anglican Communion offices; the Anglican Observer at the UN, Anglican provinces experiencing strife including Darfur; the Anglican Family Network; theological textbooks.

• The Diocese of Jerusalem – Over $1 million

Assistance to hospitals in Gaza and Nabulus, emergency food and medical supplies, operating costs, scholarships, the Spafford Children's Center and the Bishop Riah Educational Campus in Ramallah.

• The Diocese of the Highveld, South Africa – Over $150 thousand

HIV/AIDS assistance, theological textbooks and the Micro Bank

• The Diocese of Kaduna, Nigeria – Over $85 thousand

Construction and operating funds for a bush health clinic in the bush near Kateri

• Diocese of Mpwapwa, Tanzania – Over $65 thousand

Famine relief, education programs, Micro Bank

• And over $250 thousand

The dioceses of Southern Malawi, Mexico, Spain, Cuba, Cyprus and the Gulf, Hong Kong, Northern Zambia and Malita, Melanesia as well as the Anglican Church in Uganda, Nanjing Seminary; the Anglican Centre in Rome; NIFCON (the Network for Interfaith Concerns), the Irish School of Ecumenics; the Theological Education Exchange; the International Anglican Women's Network.

In 2010 over $180 thousand

- Anglican Consultative Council – $160K
- International Anglican Women's Network – $3,000
- The Diocese of Kaduna, Nigeria – $7,000
- NIFCON – $5,000
- Diocese of Spain – $2,000
- Diocese of Jerusalem – $1,000
- Diocese of Haiti – $1,500

"Compass Rose contributes so much financial support, prayerful support and above all else pastoral support to those who must practice reconciliation...without the Compass Rose a great deal we have managed to achieve would have been impossible."

~ The Most Rev'd Robin H.A. Eames, former Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland

"The Compass Rose Society's ability to bring people with differing views "to the table" of dialogue, discussion, fellowship and worship is a true gift."

~ The Rev'd Canon Kenneth Kearon, Secretary General of the Anglican Communion

Compass Rose Society Membership Information

The Compass Rose Society aims to give US$400,000 annually to the mission and programs of the Anglican Communion through the Anglican Consultative Council in London.

New memberships and members' continuing annual donations fund this gift. A new membership requires an initial gift of US$10,000 (or the equivalent in local currency.) A suggested US$2,000 minimum donation each year is recommended to sustain membership.

There are four main classes of membership as described below:

Individual Membership:

- Invitation to annual general meeting and the opportunity for dinner, group audience and worship with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral for the individual or couple and up to two guests
- Access to visits to dioceses throughout the Communion at the invitation of local bishops
- Study trips and other special events
- Subscription to the Compass Rose Society Communicator, a newsletter highlighting the Society's growth and work within the Communion

Parish Membership:

- The parish rector and guest and two designated parish members may attend the annual meeting and group audience and worship and dinner with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral.
- Opportunity to register for the Society's visits to dioceses throughout the Communion or study trips
- Subscription to the Communicator

Chapter Membership:

- A group of any size who together contribute membership and sustaining gifts.
- Four chapter members are invited each year to the annual meeting and can register for available spots on the Society's trips
  - Subscription for each chapter member to the Communicator

Diocesan Membership:

- Bishop and guest and two designated members may attend the annual meeting and dinner, group audience and worship with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral
- Opportunity to register for visits throughout the Communion or study trips
- Subscription to the Communicator

Gifts may be made in cash, stock or other securities and may be paid over time by agreement with the Society's treasurer.

For information about any of the memberships described above please contact Bishop Philip Poole, President of the Compass Rose society at philip.poole@compassrosesociety.org.

Visit the Compass Rose Society Web site at www.compassrosesociety.org and the Anglican Communion Web site at www.anglicancommunion.org.

Compass Rose Society Membership Information

The Compass Rose Society aims to give US$400,000 annually to the mission and programs of the Anglican Communion through the Anglican Consultative Council in London.

New memberships and members' continuing annual donations fund this gift. A new membership requires an initial gift of US$10,000 (or the equivalent in local currency.) A suggested US$2,000 minimum donation each year is recommended to sustain membership.

There are four main classes of membership as described below:

Individual Membership:

- Invitation to annual general meeting and the opportunity for dinner, group audience and worship with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral for the individual or couple and up to two guests
- Access to visits to dioceses throughout the Communion at the invitation of local bishops
- Study trips and other special events
- Subscription to the Compass Rose Society Communicator, a newsletter highlighting the Society's growth and work within the Communion

Parish Membership:

- The parish rector and guest and two designated parish members may attend the annual meeting and group audience and worship and dinner with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral.
- Opportunity to register for the Society's visits to dioceses throughout the Communion or study trips
- Subscription to the Communicator

Chapter Membership:

- A group of any size who together contribute membership and sustaining gifts.
- Four chapter members are invited each year to the annual meeting and can register for available spots on the Society's trips
  - Subscription for each chapter member to the Communicator

Diocesan Membership:

- Bishop and guest and two designated members may attend the annual meeting and dinner, group audience and worship with the Archbishop of Canterbury at Lambeth Palace or Canterbury Cathedral
- Opportunity to register for visits throughout the Communion or study trips
- Subscription to the Communicator

Gifts may be made in cash, stock or other securities and may be paid over time by agreement with the Society's treasurer.

For information about any of the memberships described above please contact Bishop Philip Poole, President of the Compass Rose society at philip.poole@compassrosesociety.org.

Visit the Compass Rose Society Web site at www.compassrosesociety.org and the Anglican Communion Web site at www.anglicancommunion.org.